And Country

By TIMOTHEUS T.

WAY DOWN SOUTH in Harrisburg! Yessuh, mistah, that-all's the way it is.

J. R. Partain came in yesterday carrying a cotton plant which he grew in his yard at 325 East McIlhenny and Mrs. Elmo Kuppert called to say she had cotton growing in her yard at 316A South Granger street.

Mr. Partain said his wife picked up a plant growing on the road side in southern Missouri and he had cotton and they had it again this year, although seed had to be planted again.

He said a couple of friends came down from Petersburg, Ind., on motorcycles the other day and when they saw cotton growing one remarked he was going to tell his friends back home that he had made a motorcycle trip 'way down south where the cotton grows.

GOT HOLD of a little article called "No Wonder You're Tired," and after reading it I'm convinced that there's plenty of reason.

Here's the article:

"Busy little machine—the human body. You pay little attention to it; you take it for granted. But it keeps functioning and its day's work is startling. Someone has figured out the following accomplishments of a human body in 24 hours:

"Your heart beats 103,689 times.
"Your blood travels 168,000 miles.
"You breathe 23,240 times.
"You turn in sleep 25-35 times.
"You eat 3½ pounds of food.
"You speak 4,800 words.
"You exercise 7,000,000 brain cells.

"Notice that last item—exercising seven million brain cells? You would think that would be a terrific load on our brains, but listen to this. There are something like nine billion brain cells, so your brain is using less than one-tenth of one per cent of its potentiality.

"Looking the day's work over, it looks as if at least part of the work load could be shifted—less on the food and the words, and more on the brain cells."

County Historical Society to Meet At Library Tuesday

The Saline County Historical society will meet Tuesday, Oct. 2, at 7:30 p. m. in the lower rooms of the Harrisburg public library. This is the first indoor meeting of fall and will continue to be held there each month until the June program.

Phillip Kane of Harrisburg will sing "All the Things You Are" and "I Walked With God." The accompanist will be Miss Michal Foster.

The report of the museum committee will be given, bringing the members up to date on the findings and recommendations concerning the society's much longed for museum.

Judge D. F. Rumsey will address the group on "Promoting the Scenic and Historical Attractions of Southern Illinois."

The social hour will be under the direction of Mrs. Ray Altire, chairman, Mrs. Naomi Shain, Mrs. James Bond and Mrs. Don Scott.

Note: The society's publicity chairman assumes full responsibility for the error made in last month's article stating that Eddie Miller instead of Elmer Miller taught music at the Muddy school. Elmer Miller is the correct name of the music teacher.

The Daily Register Subscription Rates

Effective October 1, the rate for The Daily Register will be 30 cents per week by carrier boy.

Single copies at news stands and at The Daily Register office will be six cents.

You may avoid the annoyance of weekly payments to carrier boys by paying in advance at the rate of $3.75 for three months; $7.25 for six months or $14.00 per year.

This is a slight savings over the weekly payment plan, but the carrier boy gets a regular 30 cents-a-week credit against what he owes for his papers, so there is no loss to the carrier.

Mitchell Accuses Stevenson Of Spreading 'Half Truths' About Food Prices

WASHINGTON (AP)—Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell has accused Adlai E. Stevenson of spreading "half-truths and distortions" about food prices, Mitchell made the statement after a 30-minute conference with President Eisenhower.

Prior to the labor secretary's announcement Friday, Assistant White House Press Secretary Murray Snyder told reporters he would have a "non-political" announcement of "major proportions." He later told newsmen he was joking.

Mitchell said Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, "doesn't know what he's talking about." He quoted Stevenson as saying in a Milwaukee speech Friday night that food prices have reached an all-time high.

Stevenson's Milwaukee speech was devoted to federal aid to education. However, the Democratic candidate said earlier at Indianapolis that the cost of living had reached an all-time high under the GOP.

Mitchell conceded that the cost of living index is 2½ per cent over January, 1953, when the Eisenhower administration came into office. But he said food prices, which make up part of this index, actually are 3 per cent lower than they were in 1952.

Mitchell said Stevenson "deliberately" ignored the 1952 food price level because it "would have embarrassed him... if he had checked, he might have been slower to make the false and irresponsible statements he made today."

The labor secretary also said it is unwise to discuss food prices without taking an increase in wages into consideration. He said "the workers can today buy much more with his money than ever before."

Stevenson Spells Out Plan to Meet 'Crisis' in Education

EN ROUTE WITH STEVENSON (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson drafted a long statement today spelling out his three-point plan for meeting the "crisis" in American education. The Democratic presidential nominee, who is headed for Minnesota today, told a nationwide television audience from Milwaukee Friday night that there has been a lack of "strong leadership" on school matters by the Eisenhower administration.

"We have had, during these four years, fine words, lofty conferences, and high-sounding phrases about education," he said. "We have had no action and no results."

Gives Three-Point Program

Stevenson sketched this three-point program in his 30-minute talk:

1. Formation of a "national educational policy," on a level with the country's foreign or defense policies.

2. Federal money for school construction and to help meet the shortage of teachers.

3. A thorough investigation of a national plan of college loans or scholarships.

The candidate said such programs "don't come free, or even cheap."

"But I would say this: First, the costs of these programs are not nearly so large as their opponents will try to pretend," he said. "Second, I think every dollar invested in a child's education will be repaid—with interest—in his increased productivity as a member of the American society and economy," he said.

Cites Equality

"I am completely convinced that the nation which can afford the best automobiles, the brightest television sets and the biggest aircraft carriers in the world can also afford the best schools," he continued.

"Indeed we cannot afford to be pennywise, and people foolish," Stevenson added that it was a "basic assumption" of his program that all schoolchildren would be "treated as completely equal, regardless of race or creed or color or economic condition."

Justice Department Asks Court Test Of Truthfulness Of Own Witness

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government has taken the possibly unprecedented step of asking for a court test of the truthfulness of one of its own witnesses.

Justice Department lawyers said today they did not "know whether the action is the first of its kind. But they could recall no similar instance."

The department questioned the veracity of Joseph D. Mazzei of Pittsburgh, a former FBI undercover informant who testified in the 1953 trial of Steve Nelson and four other alleged Communist leaders in Pennsylvania.

The five were convicted of conspiring to advocate violent overthrow of the government and sentenced to five year prison terms. Their appeal to the Supreme Court is now pending. Arguments are scheduled for the week of Oct. 8.

The Justice Department late Friday asked the Supreme Court to send the case back to the Federal Court at Pittsburgh for a hearing to determine whether Mazzei told the truth at their trial.

The department said it believes Mazzei's testimony at the Pittsburgh trial was "entirely truthful and credible." But "said he since has given sworn testimony in other proceedings which the government 'has serious reason to doubt.'"

It said the proposed court hearing would be comparable to two cases involving Harvey Matusow, a turnabout government witness. But in both of these cases it was Matusow's own recanting of previous testimony that led to court action against him.

He was sentenced Friday to a five year prison term for perjury for recanting testimony in the 1952 trial of 13 second string Communist leaders at New York.

The Justice Department said "interests of justice would best be served" by sending the Pennsylvania case back to the Pittsburgh district court. A spokesman said that if the Supreme Court agrees to do so and the district court decided Mazzei's testimony was not credible, the lower court would have authority to order a new trial for the five.

Besides Nelson, the defendants include William Albertson, Benjamin Lowell Careathers, James Hulse Dolsen and Irving Weissman.

State Auditor's Office to Exhaust Cash Balances

Will Be Unable to Pay All Bills Due To Embezzlements

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—The state auditor's office won't be able to pay all its bills during the next few months because of ex-Auditor Orville E. Hodge's embezzlements.

State Auditor Lloyd Morey's office reported Friday that the cash balances in several funds in the office will be exhausted before Jan. 1 as a result of Hodge's check cashing schemes.

Morey himself was reported "progressing satisfactorily and improving rapidly" at St. John's Hospital here, which he entered about two weeks ago for a check-up and minor surgery. He is expected to leave the hospital in about a week.

His office reported its overall balance of $2,280,948 left from the 1955-57 appropriation of $7,134,312 would be enough to meet all obligations, but under existing law refunds from one account cannot be transferred to another.

"It appears it will be necessary to defer payment of certain obligations in order to operate the office through the end of the calendar year, or until transfer can be authorized by the next general assembly," the report said.

The Legislature convenes in January and must approve any transfer of funds. The $7,134,312 appropriation was made to last through June, 1957.

The reports said the auditor's contractual services fund, for which $1,025,247 was appropriated, has been overdrawn by $131,247. It was from this fund that Hodge took most of his embezzled money.

The $4,108,124 personal services fund is down to $1,768,033, and the $734,000 travel appropriation is down to $287,631.

All but $421 of the $106,751 capital improvements appropriation has been spent.

Elks Minstrel Director Has Stage Experience

Harvey Work, who is staging the Elks Minstrel and Revue to be presented next Wednesday and Thursday at the Grand theatre, has had much experience in theatrical work and from all reports is preparing a show that is ahead of those in other years.

The show, "Around the Town" is the seventh annual minstrel-revue to be presented by the Elks lodge to obtain funds for its crippled children's work. It, like the others, is a John B. Rogers production.

Mr. Work is a native of Terre Haute and he and his wife and nine-year-old son now make their home near Rockville, Ind.

After serving in the Air Corps for three years, in the Aleutian-Alaskan theatre, Mr. Work studied dramatics in the American Academy in New York City. He then went into the American Theatre Wing, an organization of professional stage people, and appeared in choruses of the hit, Oklahoma, in both New York and Chicago.

Later he had parts in presentations of the Katherine Dunham group and in the show, "Lady of Fatima," both in New York. He joined the Rogers company in 1951 and has been staging musicals and pageants since that time.

Mr. Work said that the local show is coming along nicely, with a good cast.

Show time next Wednesday and Thursday is 8:15 p. m. Reserved seats are on sale at Webster Pharmacy.

Stuby Taken to Veterans Hospital At Hines, Illinois

Carl W. Stuby, printer employed by The Daily Register, who was seriously injured in an automobile accident August 31, has been taken to the U. S. Veterans' hospital at Hines, Ill.

He was taken to the Memorial hospital at Marion following the injury, was moved to the Marion Veterans hospital last Monday and to Hines Friday.

Stuby's numerous injuries, including broken bones, are reported healing satisfactorily, but he has not recovered consciousness from a severe blow on his head, and special treatment at the Hines hospital was indicated.

His mother, Mrs. Charley Turner of 1208 East Sloan, Harrisburg, is with him.

Wife Handicapped, E. B. Webster Fixes Anniversary Dinner

It is usually the woman of the house that has all of the responsibility in "fixing" for a wedding anniversary, especially when the wedding has endured 50 years. Not so with Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Webster, who were married 52 years ago Sept. 26.

Mr. Webster fixed their wedding anniversary dinner, because Mrs. Webster has been handicapped for the past three months with a broken hip. She gets around with a walker however, and it would be a safe guess to surmise that she was right around there close giving the old fisherman and hunter culinary advice.

Merchants' Ass'n Contributes $100 to Nurses Training School

At an executive board meeting of the Harrisburg Merchants association, held Sept. 25, a donation of $100.00 was voted from the organization to the Harrisburg Practical Nurses Training school, with the further recommendation that the members volunteer whatever individual donation they felt was justified.

It was decided that the next general merchants' meeting would be held Tuesday, Oct. 2.

George Beggs, the manager of the local Illinois Unemployment Compensation office, is scheduled to make a talk explaining how the new unemployment law affects employees as well as employers. Plans for fall promotions will also be discussed.

West Seeks Neutral President For UN Debate on Suez Crisis

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Diplomatic sources today reported the West was attempting to insure a "neutral" holds the Foreign Minister's chair when the U. N. Security Council debates the Suez Canal crisis.

Council President Emilio Nunez Portuondo of Cuba set next Friday for the council meeting to start the debate on the Suez question.

France assumes the council presidency, under the monthly rotation system, on Monday. Technically, therefore, Foreign Minister Christian Pineau, as leader of the French delegation, would be in the chair when the debate opens.

However, it is customary for the president to step down and pass the chair on to the next country—in English alphabetical order—when his country is involved in a dispute before the council.

In such an event, Iran's Djafar Abdooh would be president.

But informants said the West feared Iran's Arab connections might influence the course of the debate and there is a move on to retain Nunez-Portuondo as president for another month. There is no precedent for such action.

Five, and possibly, seven foreign ministers, are expected to lead their delegations in the debate. Pineau and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd are scheduled to arrive early next week. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles is expected to fly up from Washington.

Somoza Dies in U. S. Hospital In Canal Zone

Death Unexpected After Reports He Was Recovering

BALBOA, Panama Canal Zone (AP)—President Anastasio Somoza of Nicaragua died early today from bullet wounds inflicted by an assassin more than a week ago.

The 60-year-old Somoza succumbed to the effects of the multiple gunshot wounds at the U. S.-operated Gorgas Hospital at 4:05 a. m. CST.

His death came unexpectedly, since he had been reported recovering from the effects of the four shots pumped into him at the Nicaraguan city of Leon on the night of Sept. 21.

However, Col. Charles O. Bruce, health chief of the Canal Zone, said Somoza's condition took a turn for the worse Friday night. He said an increased decline began shortly after midnight. Five hours later, the Nicaraguan chief executive died.

Bruce ascribed death to general fatigue of the body and Somoza's inability to make a recovery from his very serious injuries.

President Eisenhower expressed regret over Somoza's passing, and the White House announced that the President and Mrs. Eisenhower had sent a special message of condolence to Somoza's widow.

In a statement, Mr. Eisenhower said:

"The nation and I personally regret the death of President Somoza of Nicaragua as a result of the dastardly attack made upon him several days ago by an assassin."

"President Somoza constantly emphasized, both publicly and privately, his friendship for the United States—a friendship that persisted until the moment of his death."

Wife at Bedside

At Somoza's bedside when he died were his wife, his daughter, Lilian, and her husband, Guillermo Sevilla-Sacasa. In the adjacent suite were President Ricardo Arias of Panama and Gov. William E. Potter of the Canal Zone.

Sevilla-Sacasa said the body probably will be flown to Managua Sunday. A U. S. military guard of honor will accompany the remains from the hospital to planeside at Albrook Field.

Sevilla-Sacasa said Nicaraguans would never forget the help received from the United States in the past week. He thanked hospital officials for their cooperation in the name of the Nicaraguan people, their government and the Somoza family.

U. S. help in the treatment of Somoza had been swift, with President Eisenhower ordering medical men here and in Washington to rush to the Nicaraguan chief executive's assistance.

The chain of events which led to Somoza's death began eight days ago.

Shot At Party

A week ago Friday night, Somoza and his wife were attending a party in his honor at the Casa Del Obrero, a workers' club in Leon, 45 miles north of Managua.

While the guests were dancing, a man walked up to Somoza, pulled out a .38 caliber pistol and opened fire. At least three bullets struck the president.

The assassin, 27-year-old Rigoberto Lopez Perez, was killed on the spot by the president's bodyguard.

He had publicly proclaimed his hatred for Somoza and apparently acted on his own. There was no sign of organized revolutionary activity. But the Nicaraguan government immediately took emergency measures and ordered the arrest of about 250 persons, many of whom later were released.

Somoza was flown to Albrook Field early last Sunday morning and taken to Gorgas Hospital. There he was operated on by a surgical team headed by Maj. Gen. Leonard D. Heaton, head of Walter Reed Hospital in Washington and the man who operated on President Eisenhower for ileitis earlier this year.

Grass Waterways Keep Gullies From Forming

Plowing down gully-washes in your fields to shut them up may cause the soil to erode faster than if you didn't plow.

A grass waterway to carry excess rainfall off a sloping field is the best way to handle the problem, says B. F. Muirhead, extension agricultural engineer at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

For gully control, shape a wide, shallow channel in place of the gully with a plow or a grader. Disk and roll the channel and then put on plenty of plant food. Test the soil first to find out how much lime, phosphorus, potash and nitrogen the soil needs.

Before seeding it's a good idea to put on a starter fertilizer. Apply 200 pounds of 10-20-0 or 400 pounds of 10-10-10 an acre for a starter. You can also improve the soil if you can disk in straw manure for a mulch.

Seed a mixture of 8 pounds of timothy and 6 pounds of redtop or 25 pounds of tall fescue an acre in the fall.

After the grass is established next year, it will be a good idea to clip and take off the hay, Muirhead says. Then for best results top-dress each year with 100 pounds of 0-20-20 an acre in the fall and 25-35 pounds of nitrogen in the spring.

Ask your county farm adviser for a copy of Circular 593, "Grass or Gullies." Or write directly to the College of Agriculture, Urbana, for a copy.

Hybrids Herald New Day in Grain-Sorghum Production

URBANA—Tests of new grain-sorghum hybrids in seven sorghum-producing states show that yields have been increased 20 to 30 percent over those of standard varieties.

Grain-sorghum producers are expected to start a rapid change over to the hybrids on the basis of these tests. Carl N. Hittle, plant geneticist at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, says the new hybrids are comparable in production efficiency to the corn hybrids of 25 years ago.

Early estimates by U. S. Department of Agriculture and other agronomists were that about 10 percent of the total sorghum acreage would be replaced with hybrids each year.

However, the production records in the tests conducted by state experiment stations and seed companies have been so favorable that the agronomists now look for a much faster change-over by growers.

The Illinois Experiment Station is conducting trials throughout the state on standard grain-sorghum varieties and hybrids in comparison with corn. Grain-sorghums seem to have a bright future, Hittle explains, especially in areas where there is less rainfall than is needed for good corn yields. In these fringe areas of corn production, the grain-sorghum hybrids are likely to take on increasing importance as a feed crop.

Hittle warns, however, that not all of the new hybrids can be expected to be adapted to our conditions. He advises interested farmers to visit the demonstration and trial plantings in all parts of the state.

Drilling for Water Tricky Business

Drilling wells is tricky business because the results are often unpredictable and conditions vary in each locality, says P. R. Shaffer, professor of geology.

Dry wells do not necessarily mean that the permanent ground water level is dropping in your area. Your well may be in contact with a perched water table or some other restricted water supply which cannot refill as fast as the water is being used.

In order to pump water the year 'round, a well must have a large enough reservoir of ground water to insure a supply, even during long periods of sparse rainfall. To maintain this underground reservoir, it must have a means of supply or recharging. If it is not able to refill, says Shaffer, it is like pumping water out of a cistern.

A farm well's reservoir may be either above the bedrock or actually in the bedrock, Shaffer pointed out. In either case an artesian well may exist, where water is under pressure and the water in the well rises above the point of contact.

If the well is in the unconsolidated material or mantle above the bedrock, it will be supplied by ground water. Factors such as rate of rainfall, surface slope, amount of vegetation, and porosity of surface materials control the amount of rain that will become available ground water.

Test drilling is the most reliable method for determining subsurface conditions. The samples obtained will indicate the conditions that exist. Sand and gravel deposits, for example, are often excellent reservoirs for ground water. Samples from your present well may provide helpful information.

Every supply of ground water is limited to some extent, and certain steps may be necessary to insure a continuous, adequate supply of water. First, adopt water-saving practices, especially during dry periods, to reduce the burden on a limited water supply. It may also be necessary to locate additional sources of supply. Such wells may recharge a dwindling supply. Finally a log of existing wells and information concerning their behavior will be of great value in insuring top efficiency and productivity.

Both the State Geological Survey and the State Water Survey have information for many localities in the state.

Farm Prices Decline Third Straight Month

WASHINGTON (UP)—Prices farmers received for crops and livestock fell nearly 1/2 of 1 percent in the month ended Sept. 15, the Agriculture Department reported today.

It was the third straight month that farm prices have declined following a steady increase from last January through mid-June.

The department's monthly farm price report also said the cost of production and living supplies purchased by farmers fell one third of 1 percent during the month.

As a result, farmers' returns in mid-September averaged 82 percent of parity compared with 82 percent in mid-August and 84 percent in mid-September a year ago.

Parity is the price needed to put commodities sold by farmers on a par with the thing they buy—theoretically, a fair return for their produce in comparison with their expenses.

The mid-September index of prices received for crops and livestock stood at 236 percent of the 1910-14 base period, compared with 237 percent in mid-August and 235 percent in mid-September a year ago.

The index of prices paid by farmers stood at 287 percent of the base period compared with 288 percent in mid-August and 278 percent in mid-September last year.

SIU Country Column

By Albert Meyer

In discussing the need for preventing farm and home fires, an overloaded electric system was mentioned in last week's column as a fire hazard.

The number of farm homes that have the convenience of electric service has grown enormously during the last 10 or 15 years. In thinking back, many farm residents today will be surprised to realize how long it has been since their homes were wired for electricity. They also will be surprised if they compare the number of items of electrical equipment they are using today with the small number and variety in their homes 10 years ago. In many instances they have not done much to the wiring system in the house or other farm buildings during that period except to add a few more outlets. The probable result is an overloaded system.

Fred W. Roth, agricultural engineer at Southern Illinois University, says there are warning signals denoting such an overloaded wiring system. Here are some:

The lights may dim noticeably when such heavy wattage appliances as toasters, electric heaters or irons are turned on.

Refrigerator or milking machine motors may start slowly and not come up to full speed.

Fuses may blow out or circuit breakers trip frequently, or fuses larger than 20 amperes may be in use on ordinary 110-volt branch circuits.

Electric motors may burn out.

When such symptoms begin to appear it is a good idea to heed them and take remedial steps. Not only may there be danger of a disastrous fire, but the operating efficiency of equipment goes down and the user does not get full value from his expenditures for electricity.

The lower efficiency usually comes from the lower voltage at the appliance. For example, Roth points out that a 10 percent drop in normal voltage will have the following effects:

The light bulbs will give off only 70 percent of their full amount of light. Vacuum cleaners lose 10 percent of their cleaning ability. Toasters will take a third longer to toast bread. If burned out motors result, the user piles up expenses in a hurry.

What's to be done about such an overloaded system?

To correct the condition usually requires installing larger wires in some parts of the system. In addition, more switches and fuses often are required to provide additional branch circuits, breaking up the number of lights and appliance outlets controlled by one set of fuses. In some instances larger service entrance equipment also may be needed.

Such changes and extra equipment, of course, will cost money, but if the needed work is not done, the owner may be spending a large part of the cost anyway in the form of wasted electricity, blown fuses and burned-out motors.

Power companies often employ advisers who are available to help farmers solve electrical problems. The actual work of revamping the wiring system should be done by a qualified electrician. At no time should a farmer try to do such electrical work unless he has learned the correct methods. Even so, most power companies require inspection of the work to be certain that it has been done correctly.

THEY WON'T BE LATE!

Maybe they were slow in dressing... probably they dawdled a bit over breakfast... but if you know the gait of those little legs you can be sure they won't be late.

This is one of the fascinating paradoxes of youth. A child may have to be prodded to get to school on time—yet he doesn't want to be late!

And the paradox has implication for parents as they plan the religious education of their children. Jimmy may seem reluctant about his first trip to Church School... and Susan may shed a tear when Mother "leaves" her in the Beginners' Department. But wise parents never delay their youngsters' religious training. It is unfair to handicap a child with a late start in the vital process of moral and spiritual growth.

Inquire at the church of your choice, and bring your child to Church School as soon as he is of age.

And, remember, parents need religious training too! If you do not now attend Church regularly, start with Jimmy and Susan.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

'The Great Invitation'

Revelation 22:1-5; 8-9; 16-21
GOLDEN TEXT: "And the Spirit and the Bride say, come. And let him that heareth say, come. And let him that is athirst come. And whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely." (Rev. 22:17)

INTRODUCTION — There are many invitations given in the Bible. While here on earth, walking in human flesh, Jesus was constantly inviting people to come unto himself. Remember the time he invited the little children to come unto him? (Mark 10:14). Too many folks today are unconcerned about little children and their salvation.

In Revelation 3:20 we have a picture of Jesus standing at your heart's door knocking and awaiting entrance. That picture is literally true. Jesus does want to come into your life. He wants to be your constant companion. He will, if you will open your heart and let him in.

In today's scripture lesson we find the last invitation in the Bible to sinners. This invitation is directed to you.

I THE BELIEVER'S ETERNAL HOME (V. 1-5)

Here John gives us a glimpse into heaven. This is to be the eternal home of every believer in Christ, the Son of God. How any person can put off accepting him as Savior is beyond me.

John tells us that from out the throne of God and the Lamb (Jesus), there flows a "pure river of water of life." He tells us that he saw "in the midst of the street of it, and on either side of the river, a tree of life, which bare twelve manner of fruits." The leaves of this tree were for the "healing of the nations." The nations certainly need healing!

The believer's eternal home will be free from all sorrow. Jesus, the Lamb of God, bore that curse on Calvary. We shall "see his face." Will that not be wonderful! There will be "no night there." We will not need candles, nor the sun; because God will be the light of heaven, and "we shall reign for ever and ever."

II HIS LAST INVITATION (V. 8-17)

This is the last invitation to sinners in the Bible. One of these days you will pass the deadline, if you put off accepting God's invitation to salvation and eternal glory.

Additional Church Notes on Page Three

It is extremely unwise to put off the matter of your salvation.

These verses tell us that all of history is bound up in the Son of God, the "bright and morning star."

Verse 17 contains the invitation to your heart. The Holy Spirit invites you to come. The church (Bride) invites you to come. That word, "Whosoever," means you. He says, "Whosoever will, let him come." It is foolish on the part of any person to refuse to accept God's invitation to have eternal life.

CONCLUSION — (V. 18-21) In these verses we are given a solemn warning to all who would tamper with God's Word. Some folks who try to explain away the Bible teachings ought to read these words. God says He will add all the plagues recorded in the Bible to the person who adds to, or takes away from the Bible.

Jesus is coming again to this earth. His coming will be quick. With John's words, we close this lesson: "Even so, come, Lord Jesus."

Joey Giardello Knocks Out Bobby Boyd in Fifth

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Joey Giardello challenged the whole middleweight division today that he was "ready to take on anybody, anytime" and he expected to get some takers from promoters impressed with his fifth round knockout of second-ranked Bobby Boyd in the Friday night TV fight.

Giardello sent the hitherto classy Boyd to the canvas twice, once in the first round and again in the fifth, before finishing him with a right cross for the full count of 10. Boyd, who had been the 2-1 favorite suffered broken bridge work and a lost molar. He was x-rayed for a possible broken jaw.

Giardello, forgetting some of his slugging tactics, worked efficiently, and doggedly in tracking the high speed Boyd, who couldn't match Giardello's heavy artillery.

Locals Play Best Game Of Year But Cannot Stop Opponents' Long Runs

The Harrisburg Bull Dogs played their best football game of the year at Taylor Field last night but had no defense against Eldorado's long runs and bowed to the Eagles, 29 to 14, in the annual grid battle.

It was a better ball game than the score indicates, as Harrisburg had a 14-13 lead in the final period. But when Eldorado went ahead 20-14 with a little less than six minutes to go, the locals fell apart and allowed the Eagles to add nine more points on a two point safety and a touchdown.

The game started off with both teams going backward instead of forward the first time they had possession of the ball, but the out-fits settled down to play some good football.

Fine Passing for TD
Eldorado counted first in the initial period when Don Gwaltney carried over from the one to climax a 40-yard drive to the goal line. Gwaltney ran the extra point and Eldorado led, 7 to 0.

Harrisburg, with a bogged down running attack, started passing in the latter stages of the quarter and did a fine job, with Mickey Stone doing the throwing to quarterback Bob Clark. There were passes for 21, five 23 and seven yards as the locals moved to the 10, where fullback John Zeigler smashed through for the remaining yardage early in the second period. Ronnie Vick place-kicked the extra point.

Eldorado tallied before the half ended, taking the ball on downs on the H-21 and with Lester Feunquay getting away on the first play for a 79-yard run and a touchdown. The extra point try failed and the half ended 13-7, although locals fans got a big thrill on a Zeigler to Yates pass, which was good for 61 yards as the gun was sounding to end the quarter.

No Scoring in Third
Although there was no scoring by either team, Harrisburg's best running attack came in the third quarter. Donald Biggs, who had not looked good in the first two contests, entered the game and did some nice running.

In fact the running went right on into the last quarter, but when the attack stalled, Harrisburg was forced to punt. Gwaltney fumbled the ball, however, and Lou Williams, local guard, recovered on the E-15. Two plays later Biggs passed 15 yards to Clark for a touchdown and Harrisburg held a 14-13 lead when Vick place-kicked his second extra point.

With less than six minutes to go Feunquay got away for a 48-yard run and a touchdown and he also went through for the extra point to make the score 20-14.

The ball then exchanged hands a couple of times and Eldorado punted to the Eldorado 1. With 20 seconds left Stone, trying to pass, was nabbed in the end zone by end Jim Woods and Eldorado had two more points.

11 Local First Downs
When Harrisburg kicked off to Eldorado from the 20 following the safety, Ben Dempsey grabbed the ball on his own 45 and raced 55 yards to score. Jerry Rains plunged for the extra point.

Harrisburg made 11 first downs to eight for Eldorado, but the Eagles were making the long runs. Eldorado ran up a total of 348 yards from scrimmage, 328 by rushing and 20 by completing one out of two passes thrown.

The Harrisburg total was 257 yards, 125 by rushing and 132 by passing. Harrisburg connected on six out of 12 and had two intercepted.

In the penalty department, Eldorado was penalized 25 yards, Harrisburg 20.

Starting Players
HTHS Coach Lawrence Caluffetti's starters were Yates and Logan at ends, Hassett and Vick at tackles, Williams and Aldridge at guards, Buchanan at center, Clark at quarterback, Cummins and Stone at halfbacks and Zeigler at fullback. Zeigler sat out the last half with an injury. Substitutes were Price, who played at all times on defense, Simpson, Pickford, Biggs and Endsley.

ETHS Coach Al Adams started Kingery and Woods at ends, Overton and Goodley at tackles, Mitchell and Mosby at guards, Pool at center, Justice at quarterback, Gwaltney and Feunquay at halfbacks and Phelps at fullback. Substitutes included Monroe McMahon, Reasons, Corbin, Dempsey, Willis and Rains.

Norris City's lineup will probably be Barnum 3b, Stevens ss, Jones lf, Kinsall cf, E. Bartnicki rf, Barter c, Cole 2b, Douglas 1b, and Westphal or Bartnicki pitch.

"HARRISBURG WON THE TOSS, what's your choice," Bull Dog Captain Jim Cummins is told by Official Louis Vicieli following the traditional coin tossing before the start of Friday's Eldorado-Harrisburg football game. Harrisburg's choice was to receive. Left to right, Eldorado Captain Web Mosby, Official Vicieli, Harrisburg Captain Cummins and Official Charles Strusz. The third official, Claude Rhodes is back of Cummins. (Register Staff Photo)

THIS TOUCHDOWN GAVE HARRISBURG a tie and seconds later the Bull Dogs went in front 14-13 when the extra point was made. Bob Clark, 33, Harrisburg quarterback, crosses the south goal line for a TD early in the fourth quarter but this was the end of the Bull Dog scoring. Eldorado went on to take the victory 29-14. ## Shaky Braves Drop 5 to 4 Decision to Cardinals; Dodgers Can Even Flag Race

United Press
A slight case of jitters threw Milwaukee into a nervous pennant sweat today and provided a golden opportunity for a heartened Brooklyn crew to bounce back into first place again by nightfall.

The Braves were all thumbs Friday night in dropping a 5-4 heart breaker to the Cardinals and the Dodgers can make sure the National League race is all even again by beating the pesky Pirates in both ends of a twin-bill today.

Better yet, the Brooks can take over the lead by half a game if they knock off Pittsburgh twice and the shaky Braves blow another one to the loopy-goosy Redbirds tonight.

Maglie Opposes Friend
Sal (no-hit) Maglie, a Pirate-beater from way back, and young Roger Craig carry the Dodger hopes today in a doubleheader that was brought about by a Pittsburgh-Brooklyn rainout Friday night. Maglie goes against rubber-armed Bob Friend in the opener while Craig faces fastballer Ronnie Kline in the nightcap.

Southpaw Warren Spahn, Milwaukee's 20-game winner, opposes Herm Wehmeier of the Cards in the all-important arc-light contest at St. Louis.

Errors by catcher Del Crandall and second baseman Jack Dittmer were instrumental in the Cardinals victory over the Braves Friday night. With the score tied at 3-3 in the sixth, Kenny Boyer, Rip Repulski and Bobby Del Greco singled in succession to put St. Louis ahead.

Moline Ends Flyers' Victory Streak, 13-12; Centralia Slugs Herrin, 54-13

By United Press
The longest undefeated streak in the state went out the window Friday night when Moline shaded East St. Louis 13-12 in a top game on the Illinois prep football card.

The East St. Louis Flyers had gone 44 straight games without defeat, and with only 1 tie. They were out Friday night to match the state record of 45 games undefeated held by Chicago Fenger.

It was a bad night generally for teams with victory streaks.

Pana, which had won 9 in a row last season to capture the Mid-state Conference crown and had added 2 more this year, was pounded by Litchfield 19-7.

Peoria Central, with 10 straight victories, took a 12-7 jolt from the Peoria Woodruff Warriors.

Arcola, with 18 straight games in the win column, could do no better than tie Atwood 13-13 in an Okaw conference battle.

And eastern Illinois champion Charleston, also undefeated last season and in two outings this year, also had to settle for a tie, 13-13, with Oblong.

In the first round of Big Eight Conference play, defending champion Elgin socked La Salle-Peru 37-19, while Rockford East dumped Aurora West 20-6, and Aurora East bopped Rockford West 21-0.

In Big 12 games, Mattoon rapped Decatur 19-33, and Danville slammed Urbana 33-0.

Murphysboro racked up its third straight triumph in a southern Illinois feature, dropping Du Quoin 39-12. In other southern Illinois frays, Mount Vernon and West Frankfort tied 7-7, Benton edged Marion 26-20, Centralia slugged Herrin 54-13, Carmi whitewashed Johnston City 32-0, and Salem walloped Flora 35-0.

Monticello rolled up one of the biggest scores of the night, rocking Arthur 49-0.

In the Chicago suburbs, powerful Maine of Des Plaines stopped Glenbard 19-13, and Barrington, a high-scoring victor in its first two outings, made it three in a row by pasting McHenry 21-0.

In other games, Peoria Spalding beat East Peoria 25-13, Pekin trampled Canton 32-6, Robinson jolted Marshall 27-0, Paris tied Villa Grove 7-7, and Newton stopped Lawrenceville 36-6.
